

Second Best

I give in to compromise again
Ignore the truth
You have revealed to me
I put my trust in shallow empty things
And I speak words that I regret

You have given me the greatest gifts
And always satisfy my every need
But I have loved the gifts more than the giver
And now I long to know Your holiness
And be much more than second best

*I must see the One
Who walked the earth
With His heart so strong
And mind so pure
He faced trials, He faced tests
Never content with second best*

When my life is full of heaviness
And disappointed overshadows me
I need to know Your peace
That guards my heart
Holding on to nothing less
I know I won't give in to second best
